MERCURY RISES TO 43 AS SNOW TURNS TO SLUSH

Thaw Fills Water Drains; Day Is Second Warmest Recorded Here This Winter

Melting ice and snow bubbled through the gutters yesterday as a temporary "heat wave" pushed the thermometer up to 43 degrees yesterday afternoon.

It was the second warmest day of the winter, surpassed only by a 46 degree temperature on Jan. 8, but a return to more normal February weather is in store for today.

The forecast calls for slightly colder temperatures as well as partially cloudy skies and rain, snow or a mixture of the two.

Only on occasions did the sun break through yesterday, but the warm air, compared with the frigid blasts that have blown Pottstown's way recently, were a welcome relief.

Heavy scores and gloves almost disappeared from sight and pedestrians looking forward to Spring, merrily splashed in the ponds of curbside water as they strolled about town, heads up and coats open.

The higher temperatures meant only more trouble for winter-harassed motorists. There still was an undercoating of ice beneath the slush on many of the borough's streets and as the mercury began to tumble last night toward the freezing mark the surface water started to freeze once again.

Melting ice on High street, in front of the Memorial hospital was partially blamed for a collision involving a truck and two sedans at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The only injury was suffered by August Stancavage, of Minersville, Schuylkill county, who was treated at Memorial hospital dispensary for a bump on the forehead and scratches of the right hand.

Stancavage was a passenger in a car driven by Michael Rozanski, of Minersville, bound west on High street when it was hit in the left rear by the trailer of an oil truck that stopped suddenly.

Albert Reed, of Philadelphia, said that he, in turn, had been forced to jam on the brakes of his truck when an eastbound car in front of him stopped without apparent reason then going on before the rear of the vehicle could be obtained.

When Reed stopped, the trailer swerved at a 180-degree angle, striking Rozanski's car and throwing it to the right of the road where it struck a parked car belonging to David W. Fawcett of Boyertown, RD 2. No one was in Fawcett's car at the time.

The left rear wheel, both rear fenders and both rear doors of the Rozanski vehicle were smashed, as well as the entire (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Spring Is On His Mind

Let winter winds howl and chill mixtures of ice, snow and slush trap the unwary pedestrian. It's never too early to think of Summer, and Albert C. Shute (left), clerk in Banting's men's store, at High and Hanover streets has a couple of handfuls of snappy straw hats to show Horace W. Shellenberger, of 311 South Hanover street. Even a winter overcoat and rubbers couldn't dim the bright hues of some of the more garish hatbands.

STRAWS IN THE WIND

Don't Lose Patience, Yet! Summer Toppers Are Here

Through the ice and slush of one of the most dismal days of this difficult winter, a bit of Summer turned up in a High street men's shop yesterday with the arrival of straw hats.

Brighter and snappier than ever before, the gay lids, earmarked for use any time after May 15 in this part of the world, arrived yesterday at High and Hanover streets, at least one month before they were expected at other High street shops.

Albert C. Shute and Horace W. Shellenberger, clerks in the shop, displayed several boxes of the straw toppers, many of them new styles reflecting a tropical influence.

A dark brown "pork-pie" number was described by Shute as something of a novelty. It sports a three-inch light brown band and is flexible, like most of the newer straw hats.

Contrasted to it was what Shellenberger called the Senate flat-foot, or the conservative stiff, yellow straw with the sedate black band sometimes with a thin streak of dark red running through it.

"We still sell these," Shellenberger declared "but not nearly so many as in the old days."

"We used to pile them up on counters all the way down the store on Friday, and on Monday the biggest job was to put the rest of them back in boxes. We sold a lot of them, but there were still too many to get them all back on the shelves."

Of the more expensive hats which have run up past $20 in former years are the genuine Panamas, with their typical fine weave and light colored straw.

Hunter Is Selected For Citizen Award

Ernest V. Hunter, Stowe industrialist and president of the board of directors of Memorial hospital, was named as "Pottstown's Most Outstanding Citizen of the Year" by the Post 780 Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the group's meeting last night in the post home.

Hunter was chosen by a committee of borough leaders who were not members of the VFW. William H. McCabe was chairman, and the other members were Burckess Williams, A. Griffith, J. Albert Marquet, Lewis Marafie and Dr. Gustave W. Weaver.

At last night's meeting, Commander Earl P. Antrim read the letter from the committee explaining Hunter's selection. The letter said in part:

"Mr. Hunter merits this award by his unselfish and zealous efforts in behalf of the Memorial hospital. The new Memorial hospital will stand as a monument to the untiring work of this man."

The committee went on to cite other civic activities of Hunter.

The rest of the brief meeting was devoted to routine business.

COUPLE, WOMAN OVERCOME BY GAS, OIL FUMES

Fagleyville Man, Wife Made Ill by Oil Heater; Local Resident Hospitalized

Three area residents were overcome by gas or fumes yesterday.

An elderly couple was saved from possible death yesterday morning when a Fagleyville man happened to hear the 83-year-old husband's cries for help.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Owens, of Frederick, who live alone on the first floor of their two-story rear farm home, were lying in bed about 2 a. m. when they were awakened by fumes from the small oil heater.

Each had a splitting headache and was rapidly becoming nauseated from the fumes and smoke that were blackening the entire room.

Owens managed to reach the window and throw it part way open. He looked across the lonely expanse of field that was between him and the next farm house. He called out:

Coming into the driveway at that moment was J. Carl Weidenbaugh, Fagleyville, owner of the farm, on his way to do some work with the dairy equipment.

Weidenbaugh heard the old man's cries, summoned Dr. W. H. Knipe, Lumerick, over the telephone of the Owens' neighbor, Carl Kauffman.

While Kauffman and Mrs. Weidenbaugh smothered the heater and threw the window all the way open Dr. Knipe drove to the scene. He gave them emergency treatment, and they responded without suffering more than slight after-effects from their narrow escape.

The other victim was Mrs. George C. Lees, 203 Rosedale drive, who was found semi-conscious in her bedroom early yesterday morning from gas that had been leaking upstairs through the night from a kitchen stove.

The maid came upstairs at 7:30 a. m. and found Mrs. Lees. She was rushed to Pottstown hospital, where she was treated by Dr. George M. Longaker Jr., and was reported in satisfactory condition early this morning.

Her husband, who is president and general manager of the U. S. Axle company, was made ill by the leaking gas, but did not require hospitalization.

Teachers to Be Chosen by Ballot For In-Service Training Group

Pottstown teachers will choose their own representatives to serve on the five-man committee to set up an in-service teacher training program. J. Fred Dilling, president of the Pottstown Teachers' association, announced yesterday.

Dilling has called a special meeting of the association at 3:15 o'clock next Thursday afternoon. The group will meet at the Senior High school to elect two teachers, one from the elementary and one from the secondary schools to represent them on the committee.

Two school board members, Dr. Gustave W. Weber and Earl J. Reidenouer, in addition to Dr. Frank M. Houston, superintendent of schools, already have been named to serve in the group.

Although empowered under the constitution of the association to make the choice himself, Dilling said it is advisable to allow the teachers to make their own choice through a preferential or some other type ballot.

"This question is of too great importance to all the teachers to be settled by the choice of one man," he declared.

Vitaly interested in all questions pertaining to the welfare and advancement of the teaching profession, Dilling has his own personal ideas concerning in-service training. He emphasized, however, that he was speaking as a teacher and not as president of the teachers' association. Nor would his ideas necessarily reflect the ideas held by the rest of the group, he added.

He outlined a three-point program as his choice.

First, the subjects in the curriculum would be rotated year by year with a group of expert instructors brought to the schools to teach the teachers (Continued on Page Ten)

Flames which swept through a three-story poultry house on the farm of Nelson G. Yoder, New Berlinville, early yesterday morning destroyed 800 chickens and a large quantity of feed as they completely demolished the structure.

Formerly a large barn the structure was converted to a chicken house by Yoder's son Jesse while he was a student at Boyertown High school. He received several PFA awards for the quality and condition of his equipment.

In addition to the 800 chickens and the feed, Yoder also lost two bicycles and a power mower which had been stored in the building. He estimated his loss at $8000, only $1250 of which was covered by insurance.

The blaze was discovered about 6:30 o'clock when members of the Yoder family noticed flames issuing from the building near the horse stable. The Liberty Fire company

Bacon, Ham Lead New Cuts On Cost of Living Items Here

Cautious Gal Crosses Fingers

Determined not to let the traditions of today—Friday the Thirteenth—cross her up, Constance Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Jacobs, 62 South Hanover street, goes by the calendar in the Pottstown Junior High school hall the hard way. Mrs. Jacobs has good reasons for the precautions since her 13th birthday is today.

Bacon and hams tumbled sharply yesterday as meat prices dropped in anticipation of the weekend demand. They were accompanied by a seven-cent cur in the price of shortening while butter edged down three cents.

A new price of 65 cents per pound for bacon brought a total cut of 23 cents per pound in that meat since Monday when it sold for 88 cents.

Pork and lamb led the downward trend yesterday while beef remained steady at the lower levels it reached Tuesday.

Hams which previously had dropped four cents per pound, were slashed another ten cents to bring their price from 69 to 59 cents.

The price of pork loins tumbled for the first time yesterday. Formerly selling for 50 and 54 cents, they will cost up to 43 and 47 cents a pound today.

Legs of lamb also were slashed for the first time, dropping from 63 to 59 cents per pound. Rib and lamb chops fell ten cents.

Despite general reports that shortening of all kinds had been cut in price, just one brand was reduced yesterday. It dropped from $1.31 to $1.24.

Butter continued to fall for the second straight day. After dropping two cents Wednesday, it took another three cent slash yesterday.

The weekend reductions in food prices are reflected by the volume of food advertising in The Mercury today. A total of 681 inches of advertising space have been taken to bring the new and lower prices before the buying public. This is some 250 inches greater than the normal amount of space used to announce weekend sales.

Most stores are featuring such items as butter, bacon and lard which have not appeared in advertisements during the past few months.

Small retailers yesterday assailed continuous announcements of lower meat prices on the Chicago market. One merchant pointed out that the prices quoted were for carload lots of live cattle based on hundredweights but took no account of the grade of meat. He said they deceived the buyer and hurt the retailer, handing only choice grades.

Some butchers have been selling premium meats at a price cut of ten cents under their wholesale costs, just to be able to meet competition.

They noted that the price of premium meats has not been reduced. Because quoted prices are averaged of both premium and fourth grade meats, however, they are faced with heavy losses if they try to meet their customers' demands for lower prices on the premium cuts.

Many believed the lower prices would not hold too long. They pointed out that price cuts and increased advertising were common to most merchandisers at this time to off-set a normal decrease in the purchase of meats during the first two weeks of Lent. They further predicted that the same thing could be expected again during the Holy Week when sales normally fall off just before Easter.

Other prices generally remained steady, with no further cuts in the price of flour or corn. Canned goods showed no signs of falling from their present levels, but fresh fruits and vegetables continued to remain at fairly reasonable prices.

Soap Manufacturers Slash Prices; Grain Down Again
 CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (P)—Soap and more era products joined the growing list of shopper items on the price cutting parade today.

Prices of all grades of tallow downward in Winnipeg only $1.10 in exchange open. Closing prices were at the city's base.

Three major soap companies—Procter & Gamble, Lever Brothers and Colgate-Palmolive—announced immediate wholesale price cuts of 5 percent on all soap products. The downward trend in fat and oil prices prompted the move, the companies said.

The A. E. S. Manufacturing company of Decatur, Ill., announced it was cutting prices at once on soybean meal and oil, corn gluten meal and refined corn oil, industrial starches and bul. corn syrups. The cuts ranged up to 53 percent on the soybean products and between eight and 10 percent on the starches and syrups.

Thief Repents, Brings Back Stolen Undies

AFTER looking the washday of Mrs. Della Skean, 522 North Washington street, of an expensive silk slip and nightgown the past week, the sole laundress later responsible for the theft returned the loot yesterday.

Mrs. Skean had reported that in two previous thefts, a pair of panties and a dress had been stolen.

Yesterday, as she opened her door to pick up her paper, a pair of panties, tied in knots, lay on her doorstep. An old dress, partly burned, was draped over her fence.

Later a neighbor asked her if she had laundry in her front yard, and dashing out to look, Mrs. Skean discovered the slip and nightgown. They were soiled, but still in good condition.

Motor Patrolman Paul Galloway was sent to investigate, but the penitent thief had made good his escape.

Thankful that the slip and nightgown were returned, Mrs. Skean noted, however, that the panties and dress were not the ones stolen from her line.

SCOUT EXHIBIT ATTRACTS 1000

Merit Badge Show To Be Concluded Tonight; 24 Booths on Display

More than 1000 area residents crowded the armory, 261 King street, last night as the Boy Scout Merit Badge show opened with 24 booths of action exhibits that had everything from mysterious wooden rings to a stuffed owl killing a stuffed pheasant.

The show will make its second and final appearance tonight.

From 7 to 10 o'clock there was an average of 250 visitors circulating around the horseshoe of draped booths plus another 100 scouts behind the booth, demonstrating or explaining.

There was one of everything on the program, and several things that were not on the program, including the explosion of a carbon dioxide tube in the plane that was part of Troop 18's aeronautics exhibit. No damage was done, except to the plane.

One of the biggest crowds was drawn by the Collegiate Troop 1 booth, which featured Indian Lore. There Henry Regier, troop commodore, smoked a genuine peace pipe while he was authentically dressed in the tribal costume of the Miami Indians that once prowled through the Perkiomen valley.

The crowd had a rest, between (Continued on Page Ten)

Wayward Trucker Blamed for Theft

A truck-driver with a yen for Florida was blamed by Pottstown police last night for the week-long disappearance of an $8000 trailer truck owned by John Leville, 399 North York street.

Mrs. Leville, old Pottstown police early last night that a Philadelphia man had left early the past week to carry cargo to Chicago for Leville who is a contract hauler.

Mrs. Leville said this was one driver's first trip for her husband. The driver was supposed to return immediately to Pottstown after delivering the cargo. He has not been near home for days, as seen Feb. 3 she said, somewhere in Ohio or New England.

She immediately sent out a radio message to towns throughout the East. They expect the missing driver will be found somewhere between Florida and Pottstown.

Prospects of Passing Housing Legislation Are Termed 'Bright'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Prospects very bright: That's the way Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) today summed up chances that Congress will pass a long range housing bill this session.

McCarthy said he came to that conclusion after talking the matter over with Republican leaders. But he would like to see any general program to encourage home construction stripped of plans for government owned or operated public housing projects.

McCarthy placed emphasis on that in submitting a report to the House-Senate housing committee. The committee is required to report to Congress and recommend legislation by March 31.

Provision for public housing in other bills generally has been assumed by the construction industry. McCarthy commented it would be well to handle this issue in separate legislation, if at all, to avoid "emotional controversies."

Senators Buck (I-Ind.) and Sparkman (D-Ala.), also members of the joint committee, agreed. Sparkman said he would want assurance, however, that Congress would act on it later.

The Senate banking committee approved a long range housing measure—the Taft-Ellender-Wagner (TEW) bill—the past April. It has been in a pigeon hole ever since, apparently because the Senate Republican leadership doubts it could pass the House. That bill provides for public housing.

Among other things, McCarthy's program provides for:

1. A government insurance plan to assure a profit to investors in rental housing. McCarthy said his plan has inducements the TEW measure does not have.

2. Development by the Federal government of a uniform building code, to be used as widely as possible.

3. A long range slum clearance plan.

4. Extension of the government's authority to guarantee housing loans, especially for rental dwellings. The program sets up an overall goal of 1,500,000 new homes every year for the next ten.

But McCarthy said about 700,000 of these probably will be "piped out of the market" each year unless some way is found to reduce the prices of homes or to let the government stand part of the cost.

Latest Experiments In Atom Research Explained to League

Outlining the history and development of atomic energy last night before a meeting of 50 members of the Jewish Community League, Samuel B. Schacht, chemistry teacher at The Hill, told of the newest experiment in the effort to harness the power for peaceful use.

After bringing his listeners from the discovery of radium in 1898 by Madame Curie to the war-time manufacture of the atom bomb, Schacht said many recent experiments with atomic energy have failed because scientists have not been able to trace the passage of neutrons after the break-up of the atom, of which they are a part.

In detail the chemist explained an experiment completed early this year in which neutrons were traced after an atom had been smashed.

The experiment was done by pointing out, in water over which a vacuum had been created, ions making the water cloudy.

Into the water a solid atom was introduced he continued. Then in the cloudy water scientists saw white streaks which proved to be neutrons released after the break-up.

It was observed, he added, that the neutrons first departed from their source in two lines, then four, then eight, etc.

With this information the chemist said, scientists can further their experiments and may eventually reach a satisfactory use for the energy.

Albert W. Gould, president of the league, presided at the meeting.

Purple and violet colors are said to go with sophistication.

Boy, 15, Shoots Girl In Fit of Jealousy

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12 (AP)—A husky, 15-year-old youth who said he was "crazy about girls" admitted shooting to death his high school sweetheart in a fit of jealousy, police said today.

The girl, Dolores Conn, 16, died Monday in her mother's apartment. Juvenile Officer C. W. Lillywhite said Thomas Marsh admitted the shooting in a written statement yesterday after several re-enactments in which he was unable to account for a spot of blood on the sofa.

Lillywhite quoted the youth as saying:

"All right, I'll tell you I killed her. She started talking about this guy (her former boy friend, Rollie Wells 15). I guess I saw red and I shot her."

It has been estimated that 16 million housing units in the United States in 1940 were in such poor condition that they needed to be replaced or rebuilt.

Burning Auto Blocks High Street Traffic

Traffic at High and Evans was partially tied up for more than a quarter of an hour yesterday when the engine of an automobile caught fire at 3:30 p. m.

The car was driven by Mrs. Mary D. Nunn, of 252 High street. She stopped at the intersection for the red light and noticed that the engine was smoking.

Dr. W. D. Phillips, optometrist of 310 High street, also saw the smoking engine and called the Good Will Fire company and Fire Chief Richard A. Landauer.

Meanwhile, Robert M. Fount, owner of a service station at High and Franklin streets, came to the rescue with a portable extinguisher with which he began to smother the flames.

An emergency truck and pump arrived from the Good Will fire house and completed the job, as Patrolman Michael S. Nanta began straightening out the traffic snarl.

Landauer disconnected all wires and the car was towed to a High street garage. The blaze was caused by overflowing anti-freeze solution.

Cornell Laboratory Destroyed by Fire

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 12 (AP)—Fire tonight destroyed the high voltage laboratory at Cornell University with a loss estimated unofficially at "millions" of dollars.

The building, constructed in 1941, housed valuable electrical equipment.

Ithaca firemen, responding to no alarms, fought a losing battle with the flames.

The building collapsed shortly before 11 p. m.

A university official, who declined use of his name, said the university's man-made lightning equipment and other invaluable electrical instruments, as well as stores of Army surplus equipment, were in the metal structure.

He predicted the loss would run "into the millions."

Fire Chief Raymond Travis said cause of the blaze could not be determined immediately.

Jerusalem is now an Arab community with a population of 9000.

Part of Bank Loot Uncovered in Snow

TORONTO, Feb. 12 (AP)—War bonds valued at $120,000 were found in a snowbank by police tonight. They identified them as part of the loot in a $500,000 bank robbery here the past fall.

The discovery brought the total recovered from the holdup to nearly $400,000.

Two detectives who made the find recently used a mine detector to recover $150,000 in bonds, stocks and jewelry hidden in metal boxes a half-mile from the same spot.

That search was instituted following an underworld tip. No one has been arrested.

Free Control Pushed
For Top ERP Official

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 — Gradual realization of the enormous power which will be vested in the administrator of the European Recovery Plan has won growing support for the Martin-Taft demand that the top operating agency be divorced from the White House and State department to the fullest degree. Close study of the proposed setup has produced a change of sentiment even among many members originally committed to rigid and centralized control of State.

The general manager of the foreign aid program will have almost unlimited economic power, if Congress finally grants the amount estimated by the Administration to be necessary for immediate reorganization and long-term recovery.

When experts here and abroad ascertain the amount and kinds of goods required for the participating nations, they will funnel their orders through him. He will become a large-scale buyer of everything from raw materials to heavy machinery.

The Orioles' Big Chance
POTTSTOWN'S Fraternal Order of Orioles have a fine opportunity to make itself a great benefactor of the community in its decision to rebuild.

The Orioles are thinking about purchasing the Mercantile hotel at King and York streets. The plan, created about Pottstown for several years, is to tear down the aged hostelry to make room for an enlarged Orioles home. The Orioles already own adjacent property.

Now, if the Orioles wish to ingratiate themselves on the heart of Pottstown, they could decide to erect a modern hotel and lodge home on that site.

Say an eight-story hotel which would include an auditorium, large dining rooms, as well as separate quarters for the fraternalists. The cost of combining the two—hotel and lodge—would not be too great. The revenue should be great.

Pottstown needs hotel accommodations. A great deal of transient trade fails to stop here because the community can boast no adequate quarters.

There's hardly a chance that local capital can be obtained to erect a modern hotel. That has been tried over a number of years. The cash just isn't available.

But the Orioles have the cash reserve to combine their enterprises. They have a man of vision in George Gross, their home association president. They have a sufficient number of members who are imbued with civic pride to back such a plan.

They have precedent for the combined quarters in what lodges in other cities accomplished. The Moose in Reading erected a large hotel. Elks lodges in many large cities have put up modern hostels available to the public.

It's an idea that the Orioles should ponder.

Helping the Old Folks

To the Editor: Must we allow our century, old folks to suffer from exposure before we give them help? Then we, who support our public charities through the Community Chest, are throwing our money away.

I read in the Mercury about Mr. Slowinski and it made my blood boil. The article said that through a mix-up this old man got less coal than he needed for himself or the Family Welfare society. Then he was permitted to freeze before arrangements could be made to get him more fuel.

Doesn't the Family Welfare society follow up these cases? Isn't this the job of social workers? I'd like to have the answers to these questions before I give another red cent to the Community Chest.

While on the subject of charity cases, I want to tell you that I think the Mercury Relief Fund is doing fine work, providing help when it is needed and where it is needed. Keep up the good job!

Have a Heart, Won't Ya?

To the Editor: I got a valentine in the mail today that was nothing to write home about, but I'm writing you about it because something should be done about permitting such stuff to go through the mails.

This valentine didn't have any of the fancy lace and hearts. It was one of those that some people think are funny. And the verse on it was nothing short of being obscene.

Then, to make it worse, a woman's name was signed to it and my wife, thinking it was just a letter from one of our friends, opened it. I don't have to tell you where I now stand in the family circle.

I believe there's some postal law preventing such stuff being sent in the mail. If I'm right, it ought to be enforced.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD Feb. 12 — This really happened (and we'll discuss it with you on radio and show shows galore!) Bill Frawley was walking down Vine street the other night when a bum accosted him and asked for fifty cents. "What do you want fifty cents for?" asked Bill. "I wanna go myself a drink," answered the harder. "You're an honest man," said Frawley, "so I'll buy you a drink." And so they walked a few steps further and went into the Brown Derby and sat down. The waiter greeted Frawley with, "Good evening, what will you have?" Bill said, "Two Scotch highballs." And the bum chirped up, "I'll have the same." (11) Weeks ago we told you that Shirley Temple's first film after the birth of her baby would be "What Every Bride Should Know" a story that's been planned for her a long time. Also tipped you that the life-story of Helen Morgan would finally be made with Dorothy Lamour in the title role. We note the "news" is just breaking all over the place.

That ought to be obvious to anyone who would essay such a game as bridge, but in many cases it is not. Especially in a duplicate tournament, a defensive player should try to keep his mind on the target his side should hit—the number of tricks by which the declarer must be set in order to produce a good score in comparison with probable results at other tables.

The Lenten Season
POTTSTOWN now is observing the Lenten season, which began Wednesday with Ash Wednesday. It is a period of penance set apart each year by Christian churches.

Deriving its name from an old Anglo-Saxon word, "lencen," which means "Spring," the period is observed in memory of the 40 days fast Jesus kept in the desert.

Although carefully marked by special services in many churches, Lent is a very personal observance. It represents a means of sanctification, and self denial for the worshipper.

The Catholic Church, provides for 40 fasting days, excluding Sundays, when abstinence is relaxed. Protestant denominations have more elastic interpretations of self denial.

The Protestant, according to the denomination to which he belongs puts aside many of the pleasures and luxuries of his accustomed daily life, as a remembrance of Christ's denial, and preparation for the rigorous ministry which awaited Him, with its thundering climax of death, and transfiguration.

There are many modernists who question the necessity or efficacy of self denial during the same six and a half weeks of the Lenten season, and they are within their inalienable individual rights to do so.

So often, however, in this materialistic world, the self-confessed intellectual rationalizes every problem of his relationship with God into the easiest alternative.

It is said by some of this group that the mortification of the body has little value in aiding the mind, or soul to establish its correct alliance with God. On the other hand, they are wont to give in freely to the desires of the flesh, "to make the body more at ease, and thus free the mind for celestial contemplation," all of which is childish reasoning.

Unless some symbol of sacrifice is observed, the sincerely religious may find that the mind is jealous of the body, and should the desire of the flesh find ready appeasement, the spirit may see, such freedom also.

Again, however, that is the personal decision of the individual concerned.

Regardless of theological concept, the pre-Spring season is an excellent time to clean house in the mind, spirit or soul. The turmoil of the social season quiets, and even nature seems to rest and conserve energy for the great creative seasons of Spring, and Summer.

In a world of cross-purposes where it seems so much more difficult to live peacefully and truthfully than in a wartime destructive era, Lent provides a wonderful opportunity for clear thinking, high resolves, and decisions.

During this period no better preparation for such a mental readjustment can be suggested than the reading and rereading of the life of the greatest personage ever to make His influence felt on this roaring globe, Jesus of Nazareth.

Not Waste of Gasoline, He Says

To the Editor: Couple weeks ago you had an editorial chiding us truckers for keeping our truck motors running while we're in a lunch car sipping coffee. You suggested it was a waste of gasoline, especially at a time when gas is so short. You're all wrong. Take it from a truck driver who knows I've driven for 20 years. A truck engine shut off for 20 minutes in severe cold weather will eat up more gasoline in the first three to five miles of operation after starting than had the same truck idled for an hour. Nor would a truck driver with any sense try to pull a truck fully loaded with a cold engine.

Wants No Tickets "Fixed"

To the Editor: Some time ago I happened to mention to one of our policemen that I had received a parking ticket. He immediately offered to have it fixed for me, explaining that the officer who made the pinch was a buddy of his I was wrong and I knew it, so I went over to borough hall and paid my fine.

But all of this made me wonder how many tickets are being fixed by members of our police force. Then I read where public officials in Reading have reached a "gentlemen's agreement" not to fix parking tickets. Pottstown police might take a tip from the Reading officials. Honor in their own house would help raise public esteem for their position.

The Worry Clinic
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

HAROLD E. 27, was in one of my private classes.

"If the instincts of sex and of self-preservation are so strong, how is it possible for us to hope for peace and brotherly love in this war-torn world?" he very logically asked.

"We have a stomach as the basis for our desire for food, and sex organs to prompt our desire for love. But do we have any specific organ in our anatomy for peace, or for religion, or for music?"

"Dr. Crane, how can we ever learn to live in peace?" Wars have ravaged the U. S. A. almost every 25 years."

This does sound like a poser, doesn't it? Why weren't we built with an organ in our anatomy that would clamor for peace, much as our stomach demands food three or four times per day?

Well, we couldn't carry around too many different organs like the liver and stomach, for they'd make us too heavy. So we were given a "million-in-one" organ, called the brain.

It is a plastic nervous organ which can be sub-divided by diligent training into literally millions of attitudes, habits, and ideals, which in turn generate specific "hungers."

For example, of religious training we can inculcate implant such a strong "hunger" for Christianity and brotherly love that the early martyrs gladly were burned at the stake and suffered all sorts of excruciating tortures, yet did not recant.

Animals and mankind will occasionally ignore their stomach hunger if they see that death lies ahead if they touch a morsel of food.

But early Christians refused to forego their worship of Christ in spite of death. So their brain generated a stronger religious hunger than the stomach's gastric hunger.

Muscle is also a product of the brain, and can produce almost unpredictable effects in human behavior. The "Marsellaise" has been forbidden at times in French history because it inflamed the solitary too much.

The brain is thus the most wonderful organ in our entire anatomy, for it permits an endless variety of behavior not otherwise possible. The poor horse for example, is limited to one type of snore.

We supplement our eyes with telescopes and view the heavenly bodies. We employ microscopes and see bacteria. With the radio we hear whispers breathed from the far corners of the earth.

But it has been estimated that we never employ 25 percent of our nervous tissue. So we need not worry, therefore, about burning out a nerve cell!

And we should implant in our children through daily training, such good habits as religion and brotherly love; instead of prejudice and hatred. We should also inculcate a desire for good music, literature and art. For good sportsmanship, for happy marriage, freedom from divorce, and for this Republic in contrast to democracy, which means mobocracy, where mobs rule by force or majority vote and then ignore the rights of minorities.

Valentine — Mrs. James M. Pollock, 1217 Spruce street, could have had her first Valentine trench-fried this year. It was an almost perfectly heart-shaped potato she discovered in a shipment of Lancaster county potatoes sent to her husband's store at 326 North Charlotte street. Used to discovering oddly-shaped vegetables, Mrs. Pollock said it was the first time she ever found one shaped like a heart.

INCONGRUOUS SIGHTS — Ralph H. Thomas, North Charlotte street resident who's employed in the State Auditor's office in Harrisburg, spent the Lincoln Birthday holiday by sprinkling his front lawn! He was removing snow and ice. . . . Mrs. Stephen Ollie, Pottstown RD 3, is flirting with this column's luck. Because the column named Martha Graham as "Miss Hush," Mrs. Ollie now tempts it with another's suggestion that the "Walking Man" is Gene Tunney. What are readers guessing? . . . Square eggs now are a reality. An inventor has hatched the idea of storing an egg without its shell in a plastic cube that won't break or roll off the table. The square egg packs better, won't crack in hot water.

BENEDICT — News is leaking out that Tommy (G. Thomas) Zellera, 3 Chestnut street, middle-aged it the past Christmas eve. Zellera gained local fame for his ingenuity when he kept Pottstown's Christmas lights glowing during a power ban several years ago. . . . He erected his own generators to brighten Pottstown's main drag. . . . Dentist say wearers of partial or full dentures who have had trouble with chewing gum sticking to the new choppers should keep on trying. The tongue, lips or cheeks will eventually depart to the nippers a polish much higher than can be given mechanically and which will permit gum chewing once the polish has been completed.

EXPANSION — The Orioles aren't the only Pottstown fraternalists thinking of expanding their social quarters. High street rumors have it the Eagles need more space, want to spread out at their main stem site. . . . Canned beer probably will be scarce if not unobtainable this summer. Secretary of the Interior Krug will ask the beer industry to cut down or discontinue the use of cans for beer in order to save precious steel and the brewers no doubt will comply. . . . Tiny cans of orange juice, though, will soon dot the counters of a variety of new distribution outlets. Small 5½-ounce cans will be seen in dining cars, air terminals, on airplanes, in hotels and at soda fountains.

Slowdown Abroad Solved

To the Editor: A last, the reason for the lack of production in both England and Germany has come out. The elastic in suspensors is so poor that the men have to use at least one of their hands most of the time to hold their pants up.

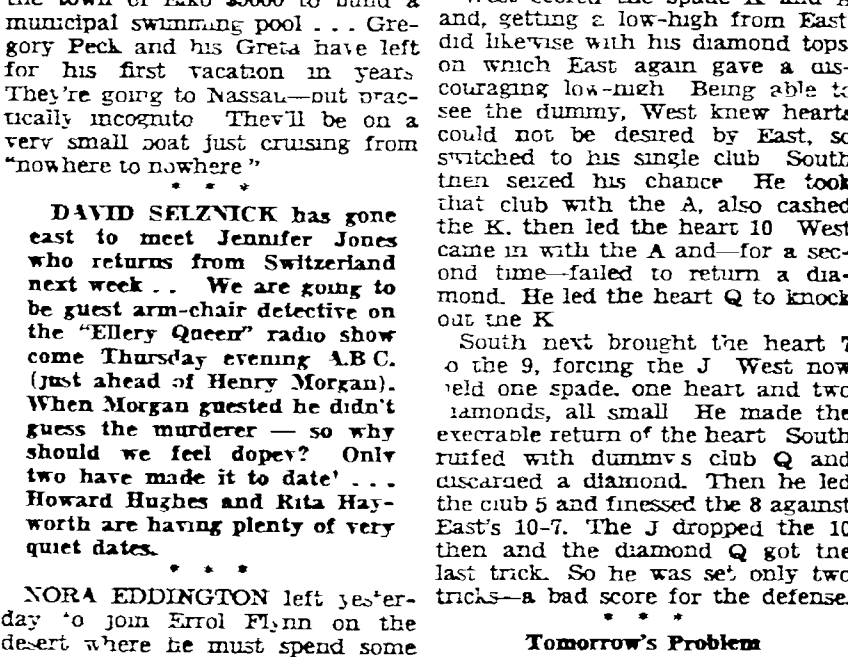

Presumably there is an equally sad situation with the ladies' garters and girdles. This state of affairs will receive understanding sympathy from everybody.

Let's start a movement to send over rubber and plenty of it and watch Europe bounce back in a hurry.

YOUR HEALTH
By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

EVERY part of the body seems to have its special enemies in the germ world and the gums are no exception. Indeed, the entire membrane lining of the mouth seems especially susceptible to the microbes which cause trench mouth or Vincent's angina.

Thus this infection is highly contagious and may be spread from one person to another through droplets which are thrown into the air during talking or coughing, or by contaminated eating utensils, and insanitary drinking fountains. Epidemics of Vincent's infection are not unusual.

As a rule, mild cases of this disorder can be cleared up easily. In fact, there are many forms of treatment which have been used for it. However, when the disease becomes severe and prolonged, thorough-going measures are necessary.

The condition produces soreness of the mouth and gums. There may be bleeding of the gums or a bad odor to the breath. The gums are excessively tender. Ulcers or sores may form on the gums or lining membrane of the mouth.

During the early stages of mild cases simply brushing the teeth and gums night and morning with warm water to which a little salt has been added, followed by rinsing for five minutes with equal amounts of hydrogen peroxide and water, will produce a cure. It is also suggested that tablets of potassium chlorate be allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, under the tongue, three times a day.

In more advanced cases, this local treatment alone is not sufficient. It is suggested that penicillin be employed in the more severe cases and the sulfonamide drugs for the less severe.

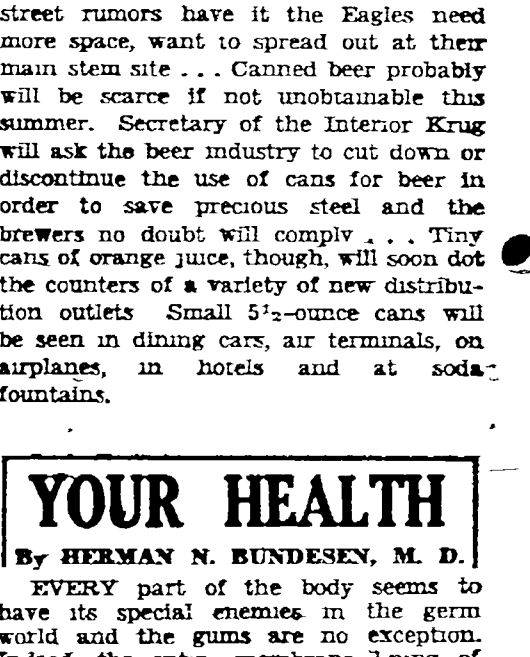

In any event, the first step in the treatment is for the dentist to remove deposits from the teeth, using all possible care and gentleness.

There are some who have suggested that penicillin be injected into the upper and lower jaws. However, equally good results seem to be obtained by giving the injections deep into a muscle.

If the sulfonamide preparations are used, an ointment containing them may be made up. This ointment is packed into the pockets between the gums and teeth. The sulfonamide preparations may also be given by mouth.

In any event, when Vincent's infection develops, the dentist should be consulted immediately concerning the treatment of the condition. With the modern methods of eliminating this disorder, the condition can be brought under control within several days in practically all instances.

New Electronic Device to Be Used in Test To Determine if There is Life on Mars

CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (AP)—The age old question of whether there is any life on Mars may be answered next week.

University of Chicago astronomers expect that a newly developed electronic device that can analyze matter millions of miles out in space may settle the question—at least as to plant life.

When Mars comes within 43,000,000 miles of the earth next week—closest for the next two years—scientists will hook up their device to McDonald's observatory's 82-inch telescope at Fort Davis, Tex., and train the big eye on the neighboring planet.

Two areas on Mars will hold their interest—green patches that seem to undergo seasonal changes, and polar caps. The electronic device, called a spectral recorder, is expected to determine whether these green patches are identical in type to vegetation growing on earth and whether the polar caps are composed of frozen moisture.

If the spectral recorder shows Martian areas have the same infrared ray absorption pattern as similar earth areas, astronomers say it will mean that plant life, similar to that on earth, and moisture are present on Mars.

If there is surviving plant life there is a possibility that some form of animal life exists, astronomers say, although probably of a much different, evolutionary nature than that on earth.

The atmosphere on the surface of Mars is so rare that it is equivalent to that 50,000 feet above earth—much higher than aviators can go without a special oxygen supply. The polar caps may turn out to be frozen carbon dioxide, scientists say.

In the tests, light from Mars will pass through the telescope and enter a box-like spectrograph through an eye-like slit. Infra-red rays will be culled out, picked up by a photo-electric cell and converted into electric current. The current will be amplified and automatically recorded in ink on a paper graph. The tracings will form a pattern to be compared with a pattern made by earth vegetation and moisture.

Holdup Victim

Teller in a Bank of Manhattan Company branch at Whitehouse, New York, Attilio (above) was forced to open the door of his cage by two of three gunmen who held up the bank during the noon hour and escaped with $38,000. According to local police records it was the largest holdup of its kind in the city since 1938.

Snowslide Carries Train Cars Down Mountain in Colorado

ALAMOSA, Colo., Feb. 12 (AP)—Three railroad cars were hurled like toys down a mountainside by a rumbling snowslide, but all 14 occupants came out alive.

None of the dozen passengers and trainmen who were injured, were hurt seriously. One who escaped injury entirely was a 15-month old boy who fell asleep on his grandfather's shoulder as he was carried to safety.

A 19-year-old nurse suffered frostbitten feet as she scrambled, minus stockings and shoes, up the frozen snow slope in the yellow light of trainmen's lanterns.

The train, on the narrow gauge Denver and Rio Grande Western line between Alamosa and Durango, was climbing toward Cumbers pass when the slide struck shortly after 6 o'clock last night.

The torrent of snow, 100 feet wide, smashed into the last three cars. They were swept down the slope for distances of 30 to 500 feet. Cushioned by the packed snow, they did not overturn.

The nurse, Mary Martinez of Park View, N. M., said "we hit a large tree and the car splintered. Our car was at a steep angle and I am sure we would have gone on down the slope if that tree hadn't stopped us."

The wreck occurred at 9,000 foot altitude 30 miles southwest of Alamosa in sub-zero weather.

Trainmen lighted flares and lanterns beside the tracks and tossed a rope down to the passengers scrambling in the snow.

Miss Martinez, a nurse at the Denver Children's hospital, did what she could for the injured, but had no first aid equipment.

The baby who didn't let her near tragedy interfere long with his slumber was Philip Schenfeld. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Stock of Chama, N. M., were taking him to Midvale, Utah, where his mother lives.

A rescue train reached the scene about midnight and brought the passengers here early today.

Air Attack on Greece Listed, Prisoner Says

ATHENS, Feb. 12 (AP)—Reliable British sources quoted a captured Greek guerrilla today as saying rebel air attacks on Athens and other cities are planned for March.

The sources said the guerrilla was captured on Euboea, largest of the Greek Aegean islands.

There have been recurring reports in Athens that Communist guerrillas are planning aerial warfare.

A captured political commissar said several weeks ago in Ioannina that armen were being trained in Yugoslavia. There have been unconfirmed reports that guerrillas have built air strips in the mountain valleys.

Three Found Dead In Kansas Snowstorm

MEADE, Kas., Feb. 12 (AP)—A western Kansas snowstorm brought death to two young sisters and their escort, a searching party learned today.

The frozen bodies of Phyllis Moler, 19, and her sister Louise, 16, were found under snowdrifts less than half a mile from their farm home near here. Melvin Miller, 20, with whom the girls had attended an entertainment Tuesday night at nearby Fowler, Kas., also died of exposure. His body was found a short distance from his stalled motor car, a mile from the Moler home.

All three had tried to follow a wire fence to the house. Heavy snow had hidden the bodies and wiped out their foot prints.

Over a million square miles of Australia has an annual rainfall of less than 10 inches.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 12 (AP)—Because a chemistry teacher allegedly slapped and punched a 16-year-old student, about 200 Brentwood High school students went on strike today.

The strikers, mostly boys, refused to go back to class after lunch. They asked Principal Samuel E. McDonald, to oust the teacher.

Attempts of the striking students to get the rest of the school's 750 students to join the walkout failed. Brentwood police scattered the strikers as they paraded in Brownsville road across from the school.

Martin Says Republican President, Congress Would Assure Tax Cut, Aid Success

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr., declared tonight that only the election of a Republican President and Congress would assure lower taxes and the success of a foreign aid program.

Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.), speaking on the same program, said the Democrats would seek to retain power by "maintaining that a crisis requires continuance of the Truman administration."

The two Republican leaders made their statements in addresses to the 62d annual Lincoln Day dinner of the National Republican club at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

"The New Deal has had 16 years in which to prove it knows how to achieve efficiency and economy," Martin said. "For 16 years it has failed."

"The Republican Congress achieved the first balanced budget in all that time. We have started to pay off the national debt. We have reached a point where we can no longer temporize with political trickery or subterfuge; nor can we tolerate waste and inefficiency anywhere in government," the Massachusetts Congressman said.

"We must overcome inflation by increased production and lower prices. We must lower taxes. We must do everything possible to make sure our heavy expenditures in foreign aid will succeed."

"The only way this nation can get such assurance is to turn out the 'competence' in government. This will be done with the election of a Republican President and Republican Congress."

Ferguson said that "of course you will hear between now and November next that there is a stream, and there is a horse in the middle of that stream. The Democrat administration is on that horse. He is their horse."

"You will hear again that there is a crisis, so, you must not change horses in midstream. This poor old horse they call 'crisis' has been in midstream for 16 years now. Let us put him out to pasture. Let us put him out to pasture."

Martin said that "New Deal deficit spending" had planted the seeds of inflation but commented that the war also was an important factor.

"The greater part of everything produced was destroyed in war," he said. "Wages and salaries remained at home. A great back-log of demand and purchasing power piled up. When those two forces operated in the markets, prices went up."

Leukemia Victim Enjoys Early Valentines

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 12 (AP)—Seven-year-old Bobby Reusswig looked at stores of Valentines today—still unaware his physicians expect him to die soon.

Bobby is suffering from leukemia. There is no known cure for the disease. Physicians said Bobby's white blood cells are multiplying so rapidly they are destroying tissues forming the red blood cells.

It wasn't until late the past month that Bobby's illness was diagnosed. His mother, Mrs. Florence Reusswig, said today Bobby became ill about five weeks ago and was taken to the hospital on Jan. 28.

Scholars 'Rush' Valentine Program Parties Planned

It will be all hearts and flowers today when Pottstown's smart young school set celebrate Valentine day one day in advance.

The classroom parties that their parents and grandparents enjoyed when they were in school still are in vogue among today's youngsters, and Valentine day activity of some sort will be a part of each school's program today.

The elementary schools plan parties in each classroom, with no celebration for all the children together.

As customary, Valentine cards will be exchanged, and the young beaux and belles will react to them pretty much the same as their elders.

Some will bring the whole thing off with a blase air, while others will blush, fuss and generally behave coltishly as their admirers declare themselves.

Much the same atmosphere will prevail in the Junior High school, and, as in the lower grades, Valentine day cards will be placed in a box for distribution by the teacher.

Ice cream, candy and cake may turn up at any of the schools, the head teachers declared, recalling past years.

By the time the boys and girls reach Senior High school, however, such frivolous classroom goings-on are a thing of the past, and the Valentine day dance in the gymnasium last night was the highlight of the older students' celebration.

Experts in the field estimate that between 1,000,000 and 2,000,000 people are asked questions every year by public opinion pollers.

A GI bride, Mrs. Petiford settled in Elkton, Mo., with her husband, but returned to England after charging him with cruelty. She was refused custody of the little girl. The situation changed when he was arrested and sentenced for ill-treating Virginia.

Negotiations to Avert Philadelphia Strike Of Transit Workers Fail Second Day

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12 (AP)—The prospects of a settlement in the threatened Philadelphia Transit company strike darkened today as the CIO Transit Worker union announced that while continuing negotiations, it was preparing for a strike at midnight Sunday.

"We want to make it clear that there will be no further extension of the Sunday midnight deadline," said Michael J. Quill, international president of the union. The strike was originally scheduled for 12:01 a. m. yesterday.

Officials of the PTC and the union met with Mayor Bernard Samuel for more than an hour and a half today in an attempt to settle the wage and contract dispute.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mayor Samuel stated: "The parties are not in agreement. My effort will continue until the deadlock is broken. It is essential to the welfare of the people of Philadelphia that this strike be avoided."

The Mayor said he would meet with both parties again tomorrow (11 a. m.) to try and work out an amicable settlement.

Members of Local 234, of the Transport Workers union, voted overwhelmingly Monday night and Tuesday morning to strike at Tuesday midnight. The action was taken after a breakdown in negotiations for a 40-cent hourly increase and a new contract to replace the one which expired Tuesday midnight.

The company first offered a six cent hourly boost but went to 10 on Tuesday. Both were rejected by the union.

Meanwhile, approximately 800 clerical and office workers reported back to work after being idle for a day on what they described as sick leave. They are members of the APU Teamsters union who voted that negotiations for their new contract should continue until March 1, regardless of what action the TWU eventually takes.

TWU President Quill has described the conferences with Mayor Samuel thus far as "fruitless."

"We have made every effort to settle this controversy in a peaceful manner without striking. We have given ample evidence to the people of Philadelphia of our responsibility. We will continue our efforts to reach an agreement with the PTC satisfactory to our membership. However, time is running out."

Reece Charges Truman Administration Invites Support From Left-Wing Group

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 12 (P)—Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, said tonight the Truman administration has encouraged "policies and practices designed to elicit support from left-wing elements."

In a Lincoln Day speech delivered before the Indianapolis Women's Republican club, Reece said:

"Since the 1946 election, the administration has made a few gestures to give the impression it had parted company from its radical bedfellows."

"It has made a few commendable appointments to top-level positions in the government. Its spokesmen have even made a few statements proclaiming their undying devotion to our traditional form of government and their support of the private enterprise system."

"But, on every occasion, when the chips were down it has reverted to form—to policies and practices designed to elicit support from left-wing elements."

The national chairman asserted administration spokesmen "professed to be gratified that Mr. (Henry) Wallace had departed from their ranks."

"But, less than two weeks later, when Mr. Truman went before a joint session of Congress to deliver a violent campaign speech, camouflaged as a presidential address on the state of the union, it became apparent that the Pendergast wing of the Democratic party was seeking reunion with the Moscow ring," he added.

Young Missing Bride Return Home Safe

BLACKSHEAR, Ga., Feb. 12 (P)—A 14-year-old high school bride, whisked away from her husband 15 minutes after she was married, returned to her rural home near here tonight and told authorities the details of a week-long escapade with a former boy friend.

Blonde, blue-eyed Mildred Aspinwall Teston told Sheriff L. L. Taylor that James B. Davis drove off with her in a motor car as her husband stood bewildered at a roadside soft drink place. She said he took her to Savannah, Ga., where they had sexual relations, then led her on a wild ride to Lookout mountain, Tennessee.

The girl's 18-year-old farmer husband, Doniver Teston, said he was ready and eager to take Mildred back "if all this is not her fault."

SCOUT EXHIBIT —

The booth-visiting by the displays of scouting and fire-by-friction, with the support work being done by Harold Kuser, assistant scoutmaster of Linfield Troop 1, who spent two years as a Navy signalman.

The show opened with a group of vocal selections by the "Triads," a group of Pottstown women who sang such numbers as "Blue Skies" and "Easter Parade" under the direction of Mrs. Irma Miller.

Another exhibit which was a consistent crowd-drawer was the Linfield Troop 1 exhibit of wood turning, including fancy wood goblets, with rings on the bottom that could not slide off. Scoutmaster Henry Kulp explained that the ring had been cut in a piece with the goblet and then severed from the stem by some delicate chiseling.

Pottstown Troop 9 drew plenty of attention with its bird study display that featured a stuffed great horned owl with its wings spread wide and its savage beak apart, nipping at the neck of a stuffed red-necked pheasant whose eyes popped in terror.

A tour around the hall would not be complete without a summary of the following displays:

Pottstown Troop 1—colored slides of Camp Philmont, N. M., and a wide assortment of photographic equipment.

Royersford 1—exhibits of fruit culture, including two baskets of apples being sorted by scouts. These will be given away tonight.

Limerick 1—Wood carving, with four boys laboring on cutting, sanding and painting wooden replicas of scout insignia.

Pottstown 2—First aid, with 14-year-old Robert Michener patiently lying for two hours with a "broken" leg and "lacerated" right arm in sling and splints.

Gilbertville 1—Printing, with each patron encouraged to make by himself an attractively engraved and printed card on the troop's hand press.

Pottstown 5—Coin collecting, with nearly 500 coins from all over the world including 1777 U. S. 16-shilling bill and a double-size American dollar of 1923.

Stowe 1—Camping, with a realistic display of tents and other equipment, while two scouts demonstrated the proper way to roll a pack.

Pottstown 3—Stamp collecting. More than 300 stamps of all countries, including an American Graf Zeppelin stamp worth $75, and a demonstration of the proper way to classify and mount stamps.

Pottstown 7—Pioneering, a straw lean-to that makes you sleepy to look at, and a wooden bridge made of small branches that can support 400 pounds.

S.S.S. Buccaneer—A display of ship's wheels, compass and knots boards, with uniformed Sea Scouts standing by under direction of the ship's new acting skipper, R. F. King.

Pottstown 15—Firemanship, with scouts demonstrating how to fill and operate a soda extinguisher and several manual brush-beaters for extinguishing field fires.

Pottstown 8—Carpentry, with boys laboring away with saw and hammer on everything from tables to ships.

Mont Clare 1—Farm layout, with a table model of red and green gravel showing the outlines of proper contour plowing.

Evansburg 1—Bookbinding, with scouts actually binding a wide range of volumes.

Schwenkville 1—Cooking, with some appetizing displays, including how to cook potatoes and eggs underground.

Trappe 1—Leathercraft, with new methods. For example, if history were the first subject chosen, as many as three, four or five experts from different colleges and universities would come to Pottstown to instruct in that subject. The following year, a new subject and new instructors would be chosen.

He stressed the necessity for a variety of instructors in the same subject. New viewpoints then would be presented to the teachers, who would choose the best points of each.

Secondly, to achieve unification of purpose in teaching, the teachers would meet in weekly or bi-weekly discussion groups and workshops to work together on new ideas and the best methods of presenting them.

As his third point, he believed if the school district, through increased revenues, could finance attendance at Summer sessions, it should do so. He pointed out that it was necessary for teachers to continue to study throughout their teaching careers, but that, in many cases, they were unable to afford to pay tuition fees themselves.

Continued instruction under different professors at different universities pays dividends in the caliber of instruction in the school district, he remarked.

Drillings, who came to the Pottstown schools in February, 1943, has almost 13 years background as a teacher. He previously had taught for four years in the Hollidaysburg Junior High school and for four years in the Martinsburg elementary schools.

He received his bachelor's degree from Shippensburg State Teachers college and has taken special courses at Pennsylvania State college. For the past three years, he has been taking night courses at Temple university.

MRS. SUE D. (KULP) FRYER, of 121 NORTH WASHINGTON STREET, died at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Pottstown hospital. The 63-year-old woman had been a patient there for one week.

Mrs. Fryer had been treated at home for the past six months before she entered the hospital, according to her son, Kenneth Fryer, of 121 North Washington street.

She was born in Limerick Center and educated in Limerick schools. When she was 16 years old, Mrs. Fryer moved to Pottstown and has lived here since.

She was a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran church and of the Normal Sunday School Class and of the Missionary society of that church.

In addition, Mrs. Fryer was a member of the Ladies Auxiliary, Pottstown Camp 81, United Spanish War Veterans. Her husband, William H. Fryer, died in 1943.

Other survivors, in addition to her son, include three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Grubb, of Sanatoga, and Mrs. Sara Miller and Mrs. Kathryn Hinton, of Philadelphia; a brother, John Kulp, of Philadelphia, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be announced later, and interment will be in Highland Memorial park.

MARY ELIZABETH (VOORHEES) ALBRIGHT, 26, wife of William H. Albright, of 872 NORTH CHARLOTTE STREET, died at 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia, where she had been a patient for two weeks.

Mrs. Albright was active in work with the young people of Grace Lutheran church, having been a teacher of the Children of the Church at the group's Wednesday afternoon meetings for the past three years.

She also was serving her second term as president of the Young Women of Grace.

She was born in Valley Forge, and attended Phoenixville High school and attended Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, where she majored in home economics.

Six years ago, upon her marriage, she moved to Pottstown.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Marybeth, at home; her step-mother, Anita (Preston) Voorhees, Phoenixville, RD 2, and two sisters, Joan Voorhees and Patricia Voorhees, both of Valley Forge.

The Rev. Taplich also will officiate at services at 7 o'clock tonight at her home.

Schools and Banks Mark Anniversary Of Lincoln's Birthday

Lincoln's Birthday came and went almost unnoticed by the majority of borough residents yesterday except for school boys and girls who marked the day in their classes.

Banks were closed, but the post-office had its usual schedule and all borough offices were open.

In none of the public or parochial schools was there any general observance of the holiday.

In virtually all classrooms, however, the day was marked by displays of flags, log cabins and copies of the Gettysburg address, while in history and social studies classes in particular, discussions centered around the life of the Great Emancipator.

A special library display at the Junior High school featured books on Lincoln, while there were selected readings in the social studies classes.

No general observance was held in the Senior High school, but a special assembly, in honor of both Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, will be held in the auditorium next Friday at the 8:30 a. m. assembly.

Rotarians Inspect Boy Scout Exhibits

The regular meeting of the Rotary club last night was adjourned after dinner to allow members to tour the Boy Scout Merit Badge show in the Armory and get a first-hand glimpse of the almost unique show which the club sponsored.

"It's the first time a show like this has ever been staged in Eastern Pennsylvania," Rotary president Karl Schumacher said, adding that the club got the idea from the Rotarian magazine some time ago when it ran an article on a similar exhibit in South Carolina.

"I saw a lot of younger kids, wandering around the exhibits completely dazzled," Schumacher went on. "I'm sure they'll want to join when they get older. It's a wonderful publicity for the scouts."

The Rotary club will not sponsor the event every year, the president indicated, because that would heap too much of a load on the boys' shoulders. In a few years, however, members will probably put on another.

"The attendance was most gratifying," he added.

Ira Trafe heads the club's committee which arranged the affair.

China Warned to Cut Imports for 6 Months

England Appoints Noted Economist as Ambassador to U. S.

LONDON (Friday) Feb. 13 (AP)—Britain has named Sir Oliver Franks, an economist with broad knowledge of the Marshall plan, as her new ambassador to the United States. He has never before held a diplomatic post.

He replaces Lord Inverchapel, who has been ambassador to Washington since 1946, the foreign office announced tonight. Lord Inverchapel, a career diplomat, has retired from the foreign service.

The new appointee to Britain's top foreign diplomatic post was adviser to the British delegation at the Paris Marshall plan conference the past summer. It is believed his work there was one of the factors which placed him in line for the Washington assignment.

Sir Oliver, who will be 43 next Monday, was trained as an educator. He is provost of Queen's college, Oxford, and permanent secretary to the ministry of supply. He has been connected with the government in various capacities since the beginning of World War II, as an economist and administrator.

Sir Oliver was graduated from Queen's college and taught philosophy there until 1937, when he became a professor of philosophy at the University of Glasgow. He was a visiting professor at the University of Chicago in 1935. He is married and has two daughters.

Lord Inverchapel entered the diplomatic service in 1906. Prior to World War I he served in Berlin,

Inherits Fortune

Will of Sir Hugo Cunliffe-Owen, president of the British-American Tobacco company leaves the bulk of his $5,412,000 fortune to Miss Marjorie Drew Cunliffe-Owen of London, former ballerina who adopted his name only a month before his death last December. The will made no mention of his wife, the former Mauricia Shaw of California.

Buenos Aires, Washington, Rome and Tehran.

Known as Sir Archibald Clark Kerr before he was elevated to the peerage, he later served in Tangier, Cairo, Central America republics, Chile, Sweden and China before he became ambassador to Moscow in 1942.

The number of U. S. telephones in use increased from 6.1 million in 1907 to 26.4 million in 1944.

Plane Lands Safely As Gas Runs Low

MIDDLETOWN, Feb. 12 (AP)—An Air Force pilot's familiarity with area landmarks enabled a giant C-2 cargo plane to land here safely today with only 15 minutes' supply of gas left after being lost in an ice storm.

The pilot, First Lt. Vaughn Danning, of Tooele, Utah, stuck his head out of an iced-up window, recognized the landscape below, and gave his co-pilot directions which enabled the plane with its four occupants to land safely at Olmstead Air Force base.

BLAST LEVELS BUILDING
FLAT ROCK, Mich., Feb. 12 (AP)—Several high school students were injured today when a small Michigan Bell Telephone company building 150 yards from the school was leveled by a gas explosion.

WATER PISTOL —

store, the father walked outward, his children trailing behind to stare at the bad boy. Gail was sprayed once or twice more, and she walked up to give him a lecture and perhaps a push, though this point is not clear in Gail's testimony.

Then the boy with the water pistol ran after her, grabbed his pistol by the handle and with one stroke of the butt, knocked out part of Gail's permanent front tooth that had grown in recently. All this happened before Potteiger had a chance to turn around.

The father estimated his daughter had lost a fifth of the tooth. He reported the matter to police, less to prosecute the boy, he said, than to keep him from getting into even more serious trouble.

Patrolman Galloway learned who the boy was, went to the home and arranged an interview between the wild-shooter and borough officials today.

The mother of the tot said he had hidden his pistol, while nobody was clear where he had found all the water to shoot.

STRAW HATS —

wide bands of cloth that range from simple florid to downright gaudy, some of them resembling the tropical island-styled bathing trunks that turn up in droves at the more plush resorts.

Straw hats will cost an average $3.50 to $10, Shute said, but customers can pay at least twice that much if they really want to.

The shop has not sold any of its new hats yet, and they are not expected to be displayed immediately.

Possible customers at this time of year are vacationers bound for Florida, Havana and Caribbean pleasure ports, and none of them have yet put in a bid for the sporty straw.

MERCURY RISES —

rear end of Favinger's automobile.

The truck was not damaged in the crash.

Magdalene Stancavage, of Minersville, also a passenger in Rozansky's car, said that she did not require medical attention.

Patrolman Paul Galloway investigated the triple crash.

An accident on South Keim street, near the Bethlehem Steel corporation plant, Wednesday afternoon, was reported to the police at borough hall yesterday by Mrs. Sally V. Kelly, of Edwerson RD 1, one of the drivers.

Mrs. Kelly was driving south on South Keim street when she saw approaching her an automobile driven by William E. Dunn, of 726 Beech street.

She stopped her car and the other vehicle grazed hers, scratching and denting the left front door and fender. The other car was not damaged and neither driver was injured.

Five persons amazingly escaped injury last night when a empty coal-hauling trailer truck piled head-on into a 1935 sedan on route 422 in Douglassville and demolished it.

State Troopers of the West Reading barracks, said the truck hit the sedan twice, once in front, once in the rear, but that the four occupants of the car and the truck driver came off without a scratch.

A sheen of ice on the road was responsible, they said.

The sedan, driven by Dominic Rogan, Bridgeport, and carrying three other Norristown and Bridgeport passengers, was headed east down the highway when the ice skidded it into the left-hand lane in the path of the truck, police reported.

The truck, operated by Raymond E. Mills, Phoenix, N. J., swerved to the right of the road, but, unable to miss the accident, bounced the sedan off its left front fender. The hit on the car was square in the front.

The big truck, thrown into a skid itself, then swung around and slammed

Bride at 12

Frail Betty Jo Bishop, 12, of Pell City, Ala., is shown after her 44-year-old husband, J. C. Barker, was arrested on a charge of perjury in obtaining a marriage license. The girl's mother and sister were also arrested. Police say the sister, Mrs. Dixie Mathis, had posed as Betty Jo and given her age as 22 to obtain the license. The child bride of one day plans to seek an annulment of the marriage.

Two Editors Quit College Positions

CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (AP) — Two co-eds have quit as editors of Northwestern university's humor magazine rather than blue-pencil some of its "sex and liquor."

The girls are Joan Forsythe, 21, of Webster Groves, Mo., and Mary Helen Woods, 21, of Evansville, Ind. They said they merely had wished to put "new life" in the Purple Parrot, campus life and humor publication.

The chairman of the university board of publications, Dean Kenneth Olsen, stated the Daily Northwestern and the publications board had criticized the co-editors for "too much emphasis on sex and liquor in cartoons and quips."

Misses Forsythe and Woods said they merely had attempted to present a balanced publication reflecting both serious and humorous aspects of college life. Under pressure from the board they resigned rather than try to alter the magazine.

The publications board declared it feels "new editorial direction can achieve a truer reflection of campus life. The board also feels that this action presents a challenge to those who have in the past indicated their belief that humor and good taste can be combined."

The co-editors declined to comment on the university's official statement.

choir at a children's service at 4 o'clock in Emmanuel Lutheran church. Iva Specht, the church's minister of music, will direct the massed choir.

The service will be based on the Lord's Prayer and was arranged by Mrs. C. Leroy DePrefontaine, Mrs. Feroe, and Mrs. James D. Matchette.

The Rev. Ther Oskesz, pastor of Hungarian Reformed churches in Stowe and Phoenixville, will preach the sermon at the last of the day's worship at 8 o'clock in Trinity Reformed church.

The Rev. Oskesz, who, with his family, fled his native Hungary the past summer after the Romanians took over the country, calls the sermon "The Power of Prayer."

The Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor of Trinity, will lead liturgical parts of the service and sing Malori's version of "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the service.

Mrs. Harold Keim, minister of music at Transfiguration Lutheran church, will lead a massed choir of 65 voices from local churches. Organ accompaniment will be rendered by Mrs. Minnie B. Lehr, Trinity's organist.

The entire committee which has effected the services, besides Mrs. Frantz, chairman, Mrs. Feroe, Mrs. DePrefontaine and Mrs. Matchette, consists of Mrs. Raymond Shumacher, Mrs. Emil Schorsch, Mrs. John Tyson and Mrs. Harry Shope.

College Students Riot in Havana

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 12 (AP) — Student riots continued in Havana tonight.

There was fierce fighting between students and police near the University of Havana. Two students were injured by blows from sticks.

For a week there have been student disorders in several cities of Cuba because high school students at Guantanamo, in the eastern end of the island, went on a hunger strike demanding a new building.

The government this week appropriated $100,000 to begin construction of the building.

The worst outbreak occurred in downtown Havana Tuesday. Rioting high school students destroyed many street cars and trolley lines, and locked themselves in the school building. They were dislodged by police.

The sergeant is Edward J. Damario and the detectives are Edward Harper and Paul Slapikas. The five plain clothesmen ordered back into uniform as patrolmen are George C. Wynkoop, Charles Longendorfer, John Pellman, Ward Harbison and Warren Hamby.

Lincoln Descendants Hold Family Reunion

READING, Feb. 12 (AP) — The two-century-old stone building in which Mordecai Lincoln, great-grandfather of Abraham Lincoln, once lived in Exeter township, Berks county, was the scene of a reunion of men, women and children who can trace their kinship to the great emancipator.

The reunion was sponsored by the Reading-Berks bicentennial committee.

Eighteen persons whose genealogy goes back to Mordecai Lincoln exchanged stories and historical information about the relation, and C. H. Martin, of Lancaster, representing the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania, traced the growth of the branch of the Lincoln family best known in this state.

Rebuilding Ahead For Pine Forge Plant Damaged by Fire

Reconstruction of the destroyed portion of the Pine Forge Works company, Pine Forge, burnt last Sunday may start in about a week, according to J. Albert Whitacre, of Pine Forge, general manager.

Whitacre added that no estimate of damage had been completed yet but that a survey of the ruin was being made with results expected next week.

It will be "at least a month" before the 45 men employed by the mill are able to return to work, declared the manager.

A tentative estimate of $1000-$5000 worth of damage was made after the fire Sunday afternoon. Four fire companies from Pottstown and Stowe sent apparatus and men to the blaze, which took more than two and one-half hours to extinguish as high winds and ice underfoot handicapped the firemen.

Poultry Fire Causes $8000 Loss

Only smoking ruins remain of a three-story chicken house on the farm of Nelson G. Yoder, New Berlinville, as firemen continue to play their hoses on the embers. Eight hundred chickens died in the flames which razed the structure. The loss was estimated at $8000, only $1200 of which was covered by insurance. (Story on Page One.)

Plans Sent to Duff For Better Hospitals

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12 (AP) — A statewide hospital plan designed to provide general hospital facilities within 30 miles of every Pennsylvania resident went to Gov. James H. Duff today for his approval.

Drafted by the Pennsylvania committee on hospital facilities, the plan called for 216 general hospital facilities with 45,019 beds. This compares with 290 existing hospitals surveyed by the committee with 35,375 beds, of which 8107 were labeled non-standard.

The plan was submitted to the governor after a public hearing attended by hospital officials and administrators from all sections of the state.

Farmers Ask Surplus Canned Goods for Aid

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12 (AP) — Pennsylvania farmers today urged the Federal government to buy American surplus canned goods as well as grain and wheat for shipment abroad under the European recovery program.

The Pennsylvania Association of Farmer Co-operatives at its semi-annual meeting passed a resolution recommending that the ERP be required to recognize surplus processed products in its purchases for foreign aid.

Citing as an example the huge store of additional food this would make available, the association said at least 25 million cases of canned peas are now in warehouses in this country.

Fuel Oil, Kerosene Outlook Dark Here; Dealers Cite Plight of Rural Residents

The fuel oil situation at present is desperate, local dealers said last night, and the outlook for kerosene is even worse.

Four of the area's biggest dealers last night said they had been cut in their allotments of fuel oil, two admitting to a 15 percent slash for the month of February.

One dealer who supplies industries said local plants "are running on a shoestring" as far as oil goes.

Another, Edward J. Sweeney, said he believed no homes in the area were without oil or heat but that many were cooler than they usually were.

The fact that this winter so far has been 28 percent colder than the same months in the span when the dealers' quotas were made up, June 1, 1946 to May 31, 1947, accounts for the cut, several of the dealers thought.

If March is cold, they predicted, things will be even tighter for fuel oil users than this month.

Meanwhile, all acknowledged the kerosene picture is blackest of all, with the rural buyer, using a space heater to warm his home, in the worst shape.

Mailman M. McHenry, a local dealer who sells kerosene—when he can get it—to one small industry and various homes, asserted, "We get calls for kerosene every day from rural people. They are living from hand to mouth as far as fuel goes and when the situation will improve, I don't know."

As for fuel oil, McHenry said he has cut his customers 15 percent this month and that the recent cold snap has eaten into his stocks heavily.

What makes the fuel oil matter bad, the dealer explained, is that many railroads have switched to Diesel engines; many industries have switched to oil as fuel and thousands of homes have installed oil burners.

Add this to the fact that refineries and wells have not been geared to meet the increased demand and the situation explains itself.

Another dealer, who provides many local industries with oil but who wished to remain anonymous, explained that the cause for recent increases in the cost of fuel oil is that wells, caught without oil in the surging demand, have bought up independent and "wildcat" stocks at premium prices to keep supplies rolling and therefore have had to boost their own prices.

"I could get rid of a quarter of a million of gallons in ten days," he declared.

Despite the frigid temperatures lately, he said that about two-thirds of his home customers have used less oil than the past year. "They are really saving oil," he remarked.

One local industry is in such need of oil that it imports oil for fuel from the Great Lakes where stocks for the lake steamers, unused owing to lake ice, are abundant. The cost of hauling is terrific, one dealer said.

Fuel oil is selling now for 12 1/2 to 13 1/2 cents a gallon.

Immigration Service Orders Hans Eisler To Leave Country

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12 (AP)—Hans Eisler, Hollywood composer, today was ordered deported by the immigration and naturalization service.

Eisler

A spokesman for the agency said an order had been signed, giving Eisler voluntary deportation to any country of his choice except contiguous countries. Eisler, brother of Gerhart Eisler, once described as the "No. 1 Communist in the United States" has been ordered to leave the country as soon as possible, the spokesman added. In Washington, the Justice department said it understood he is leaving Monday, Feb. 16. The brothers are natives of Germany. The order follows a New York hearing by immigration authorities into an allegation that Hans Eisler was a member in Germany of a group advocating the violent overthrow of this government. He came to this country in 1941. The Justice department said Eisler is "privileged to leave the country voluntarily." Mrs. Hans Eisler is expected to accompany him. Mrs. Eisler's status as a resident alien is also under inquiry. Gerhart Eisler, who has been convicted of making false statements in a passport application, is now being detained at Ellis Island in a deportation proceeding.

Mrs. Carl King, attorney for Hans Eisler, said in New York the fact that the deportation order permitted him to go to any country except those adjoining the United States was in effect "a legal victory." She said this would be an advantage to him in that it would enable him to accept an offer of employment in almost any country.

Bachelor Winthrop Rockefeller, Oil Heir, To Marry Pretty, Blonde Barbara Sears

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 12 (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller, 36-year-old heir to the oil fortune left by his grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, will marry vivacious, blonde Barbara Sears, 31, shortly after midnight tonight.

A spokesman for Rockefeller explained that since Florida laws require a 72-hour waiting period, and is counted from midnight to midnight, they would be unable to marry until Saturday.

The wedding will be held in the lakehouse on the estate of polo player Winston Guest.

About 50 guests have been invited to attend a reception in the early evening and the wedding which will follow after midnight.

Lawrence Rockefeller, brother of the bridegroom, will fly from New York to serve as best man.

Isabel Paul, sister of Mrs. Barbara Sears, who is here now, will be maid of honor.

The Rev. Winslow S. Drummond, pastor of the Presbyterian church in West Palm Beach, will perform the ceremony.

The newweds will leave shortly after the ceremony for an undisclosed place. They will not honeymoon here.

Mrs. Sears, former wife of Richard Sears Jr., third secretary of the American embassy in Paris, and Mrs. Guest are long-time friends, having known each other in Boston where the Sears resided. The bride-to-be, formerly on the stage, has many friends in blue book circles.

Very quietly, Mrs. Sears and Rockefeller slipped off to the little agricultural and cattle town of Okeechobee, 75 miles from Palm Beach, and obtained a marriage

Local Church Group To Send Boxes To Japanese Pastor

Mrs. Paul Towlers presided, with the program chairman, Mrs. George Moore, leading the devotionals. Mrs. Bartley Scheetz, social service chairman, announced that boxes are being mailed to the Japanese minister and family, which the organization has adopted as one of their projects of the month.

A letter was received from a German woman, Hildegard Wilde, written in high German script, telling of her immense gratitude on the receipt of food and clothing which the mission group had sent her. The ladies of the society were unable to read the letter and called upon the Rev. Roy Winters, Royersford, for the translation.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Burdian, Rosedale, March 11, at which time a mission book study will be held. The committee for the program which will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning. Members will bring a box luncheon.

Memories Revived by Mrs. Mary Bender In Address at Doe Club's Annual Dinner

"The Doe club is ever progressing! It is a club that is going places and that has a great future," declared Mrs. Mary Bender, of Alexandria, Va., the organizer and founder of the Doe club, at a dinner last night in the Elks dining hall, in honor of the tenth anniversary of the club.

She continued, "As I look over the large number of members here tonight, I think of the very small group which attended the first meeting of the club." Mrs. Bender added that she was sincerely happy to be present and that she would not have missed the anniversary dinner for anything.

The founder of the club told members that one of the most gratifying remarks made about the club was by a member of the Elks who said, "You women were needed all along. We men like the feminine touch although we didn't realize it before. Women keep the home looking nice."

An account of the trials and tribulations, fun and frolic of the club's ten years in existence was given by Mrs. Maybel Rhoads, one of the charter members. Members joined in on the review which proved to be amusing at places, such as the year, (which Mrs. Rhoads said would be best if forgotten) that the club ended with a debt of four cents. "Girls, I'm really proud of you and hope that you will keep up the good work," she concluded.

Other short addresses were given by the past presidents of the club, among them Mrs. Mable High, who exclaimed, "I didn't have much to say except that I'm especially pleased to be here because I didn't have to pay for the meal."

Other guests besides Mrs. Bender and Mrs. High, were past presidents Mrs. Ruth Chambers, Mrs. Leota Lessig, Mrs. Martha Baker, Mrs. Marian Will, Mrs. Virginia DeSot, Mrs. Frances Leh, Mrs. Jean Sotter and Mrs. Martha Baker.

A turkey dinner was served on tables attractively decorated with centerpieces consisting of bouquets of yellow daffodils and blue iris. Potted palms decorated the room and a large pink, green and white anniversary cake was cut by Mrs. Bender.

Mrs. Nellie Koury, president, introduced the speakers. Mrs. High gave the devotionals. The bouquet of flowers on the guest table was presented to Mrs. Bender by Mrs. Koury.

Mrs. Mildred Rhoads was chairman of the decorating committee with the following aides: Mrs. Leota Lessig, Mrs. Viola Formando, Mrs. Marie Montague, Mrs. Edith Dersh, Mrs. Nora St. Onge and Mrs. Esther Kendrick; hospitality committee, Mrs. Fay Speer, chairman, Mrs. Anna Smith, Mrs. Helen Fray, Mrs. Rose Weikel, Mrs. Edith Webber and Mrs. Vivian Newhall, aides.

Follow the banquet a regular business meeting was held.

Plans for a dinner dance to be held Feb. 22 at the Elks home for members and their wives were made. Door prizes will be awarded and tickets may be obtained from any member of the Elks lodge.

It was announced Eleanor Pieni, Irma Pettew, Tessie Loughran and Nell Focht are on the sick list. The come-and-get-it prizes were won by Mrs. Koury and Florence Schwab.

A hat social was also planned but no date was set.

New members admitted were Frances Cox, Harriet Sotter, Ellen Brennenman, Catherine Wack, Pearl Fisher and Betty Weidensaul.

Mrs. Frances Leh was elected president, and Mrs. Sotter was elected vice president at a meeting of the board of directors which followed.

Present were Lucy Bacci, Lavenia Bechtel, Mary Barthold, Kathryn Christman, Rosella Conrad, Irma Dengler, Esther Dersh, Alice Pieni, Flora Borgier, Viola Formando, Helen Fray, Ruth Gleisemann, Pearl Fisher, Shirley Freese, Elizabeth Freed, Sarah Greiner, Alice Grigg, Mary Gilbert, Edith Garber, Marion Harry, Elinor Holloway, Florence Hurt, Dorothy Herb, Esther Impink, Ann Jacobs, Nellie Kulp, Esther Kendrick, Agnes Kenny, Lillian Lessig, Florence Leh, Ruth Leh and Millie Lucel.

Quite in keeping with the valentine feeling in the air, Girl Scouts of Troop 4 abandoned all thought of scout activities last night and concentrated on having fun at a valentine party.

Stock Exchange Head Says Peak Passed; Predicts Rallies

ATLANTA, Feb. 12 (AP)—The chairman of the New York Stock Exchange board predicted today that commodity price peaks have been passed.

Robert Boylan, attending a meeting of the Association of Stock Exchange firms, said there would be rallies in commodity markets. But, he added, "it is not likely that commodity prices will again reach their record highs."

In an interview, he said declines in the cotton and stock markets have "sympathetic" it is natural, Boylan asserted, that in drops in the commodities markets would be felt on the other exchanges.

The New Yorker said a number of factors influenced the break in commodities. He listed the halting of government buying of wheat for foreign relief. Withdrawal of this big customer lessened demand. So prices dropped.

Prospects of a good wheat crop in this country and Europe indicated a plentiful supply, Boylan said. This, too, would tend to lower prices.

The farmer has been bullish in wheat but when a decline started, they unloaded, Boylan said. This affected prices.

"I believe," he said, "that in the near future housewives will see important reductions in the price of essential foods at retail. However, the drop will be gradual."

Boylan made no reference to any long range trends in the commodities or any other markets. Of stocks, he said there is a shortage of "risk" capital currently. He explained that because of international conditions, investors are wary of new investments.

"Should a good tax bill giving any tax relief to business and to individuals be passed during the current session of Congress," Boylan said, "it is probable that 'risk' capital will again

Then he added that preparedness frequently prevents the worst from happening.

Fire Extinguisher Given Morco Grange At Valentine Program

The North Coventry grange will be ready in case of fire.

Last night, worried because the grange was totally without any fire protection of its own, E. C. Ropeter, a member, donated a portable powder-blowing extinguisher.

Mrs. C. Rudolph Kulp, master, told the 35 members that the grange will buy some more in the near future.

Among other announcements, Mrs. Kulp said that gardeners who are panicked by the approach of Spring and seek gardening information should come to the program to be held some time in March at the Grange hall.

An instructor from State college will be the speaker, she said, and the public is invited. Refreshments will be served. The program is sponsored by the grange and the

A "hidden lovers" hunt, presenting two "lovers" behind a screen with the audience aware only of their conversation and supposed to "guess the rest," was given by Calvin and Hazel Socher.

The Valentine's skit, "Two's Company," was staged by Earl Kurlin, Ropeter, Jack Walters and Berdella Batdorf.

Mrs. Emma Spese read a Valentine's day selection; William and Richard Hohl and Ropeter sang songs accompanied by Marjorie Bernicker on the piano, Mary Jane Walters and Marilyn Bernicker sang a duet and then the two Bernickers played a duet on the piano.

Bull Killed After Tour of Atlanta

ATLANTA, Feb. 12 (P)—An inquisitive bull created chaos in downtown Atlanta today.

It escaped from a stockyard and wandered down Spring street. It scattered groups of Georgia Tech students. It smashed a plate glass window on one shop, and peered curiously into another. It quelled with a cream-colored sedan.

With police in hot pursuit, the bull turned into Peachtree street. Barney Stodghill, manager of an auto agency, looked up to find the animal huffing at his window.

Said Stodghill: "I thought it was unusual for that time of the morning."

Police Sgt. Z. P. Akins fired on the bull at close range. Wounded, it turned and chased him into his car.

Another policeman killed the animal.

Seven hours before he was to die at Kilby prison—on the eve of Friday 13—Gov. James E. Folsom announced a week's stay of execution. He gave no reason for the action.

The 22-year-old Negro, one of 28 children in his family, had expressed hope that the governor would again save him from the chair as he had on nine previous occasions.

The condemned Negro was sentenced to death for the hammer playing of a Chinese laundryman, Henry Louie, in Gadsden in 1945.

A third repairman, Joseph de Lullo, 30, attempted to rescue his fellow workmen earlier but was forced to climb out of the hole when he felt himself becoming weak from the gas fumes.

High School Principal, Coaches Favor Sports Expansion Here

By ELMER PANOC
(Mercury Sports Editor)

"It is evident that the gymnasium at the junior high school is too small for basketball games, and we do need better facilities for athletics," declared high school principal H. L. Smith, after a survey revealed that Pottstown is falling far behind other State schools of its class, and five Pottstown athletic coaches quickly agreed.

Autoworkers Cop 3d Place In City Loop

UAW 644's Autoworkers took sole possession of third place in the City league last night without exerting a single unit of energy. The Autoworkers registered their seventh league win of the season last night at the Pottstown Junior High palestra by forfeit when St. John's failed to put a complete team on the floor.

The victory assured UAW 644 of at least a tie for third place and a berth in the league playoffs. Maria Assunta, having one game remaining on its schedule, could tie the Autoworkers and force a tie for the third or fourth place.

In the other game last night, Brownback's Collegians, holding sixth place in the standings, fell back into a seventh place tie with URW 325 by forfeiting to Transfiguration AA. The Collegians failed to have enough players to start the game.

The victory boosted Transfiguration back into the first division with a record of four wins and five defeats. Transfiguration can finish its season with an even 500 mark with a victory in its final game Monday.

DIAMOND GLASS WINS

The Diamond Glass company basketball team scored a 39-34 victory over the Liberty Vets in an exhibition game Wednesday night on the Spring City, High court. Lou Munger led the Diamond Glass quintet with 17 points on six field goals and five foul tosses.

high school, were much in favor of the separate gym and more lockers.

Need Another Plant
Good expressed his opinion of developing of an all-around sports program by saying, "Our present athletic plant is well kept, but it is entirely inadequate. Our two high schools are using the facilities that are just right for a junior high school. That is from all angles, the lockerroom and equipment rooms, seating facilities and playing space."

"Now we need a plant for the senior high school—a modern basketball floor with better seating arrangements; more playing facilities for the football field; a new baseball field and practice football field; a girls hockey field and adequate lockerroom and storeroom space. Then Pottstown would be on an even par with other communities of its size."

Kauler, coach of major sports at Pottstown Junior High, said something should be done about the overcrowded lockerrooms. He stated, "Lockerroom, storage and dressing rooms are overcrowded in the present setup, and a better all-around program for both schools could result from increased facilities in all sports and physical education activities."

The present outdoor sports setup at Franklin Field was condemned by Pottstown High's gym coach, Herger Meyers. The football mentor pointed out that the baseball and track areas are too close for the safety of the athletes.

More Efficient Coaching
He also pointed out that if the two areas were separated, it would allow more efficient coaching as the track team could be concentrated in a smaller area.

Meyers also said, "If the practice area was increased, it would mean less interference with junior high and girls sports and would save the various playing fields for games only."

George Robins, president of the Pottstown school board, admitted the athletic facilities are poor and he would like to see them improved, but "the big problem at the present time is the money and cost of the project."

He declared however, that plans and estimates of the cost could be discussed now in preparation for the new program.

Goes to A's

RUDY YORK

ATHLETICS ACQUIRE BIG RUDY YORK FOR POWER HITTING

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics signed Rudy York out of the American League today with the approval of his future teammates.

Assistant Manager Earle Mack disclosed that the A's had polled several players before offering the onetime Detroit slugger a contract. He said this was done to insure there would be no resentment that might impact club morale.

And, Mack added, "Everyone on the club is glad he is coming with us. We're going to move up higher in the standings."

York thought so too. At his Carersville, Ga., home, he said he is "very pleased to be with the A's. They have a good ball club and should finish one-two-three." That's several notches higher than Connie Mack has been willing to predict. Connie, now vacationing in Florida, admits he was surprised by the fifth-place finish the past year and attributes it to "team spirit."

Nevertheless the A's have been looking for a long-ball hitter. Talks with Hank Greenberg fizzled out a week ago but today's announcement that York had agreed to terms at Carersville, assured the club of an established slugger. Rudy hit 21 homers the past year with the Chicago White Sox although his batting average slumped to .233.

Rudy has caught, played first and third base and the outfield in his major league career that dates back to 1937. He spent more than eight seasons with Detroit before being traded to the Boston Red Sox, and played for Chicago the past season.

Trojans; Raiders Clash Tonight

LOCAL QUINTET SEEKS REVENGE

Hope to Even Series With Coatesville Team; J. V. Game Opens at 7:15

Shooting for runnerup honors in Section Three of the Philadelphia Suburban conference, the Trojans of Pottstown High travel to Coatesville tonight to face the Red Raiders in an important league game.

A victory tonight for the Trojans would better their chances of finishing in second place in Section Three and would just about drop Coatesville out of the title picture, among West Chester clear sailing the rest of the way.

A Coatesville victory, however, would ruin Pottstown's chances of taking second place, but would keep the Raiders in the race for the championship with West Chester. If the Raiders can win tonight and then turn the tables on West Chester next week, a two-way tie for first place will result. The Warriors dropped the Trojans out of the running Tuesday night with a 58-40 victory.

The Trojans will have their work cut out for them tonight. Coatesville entered Coach Ed Good's charges at Pottstown on three points early the past month, and the Trojans are eager to even the series at a game apiece.

Coatesville has been showing a lot of power in its past few games, but the Trojans are still expected to give the Raiders plenty of trouble on their home court tonight.

Good announced last night that no changes will be made in the Pottstown lineup. If this holds true Stan Stolar and Don Ziegler will be stationed at forward and Brower Yerger will hold down his regular center berth. Teaming in the backcourt at guard will be Bobby Mauer and George "Bud" Rath.

Seeking their fifth straight Section Three title, the Baby Trojans clash with Coatesville's junior varsity combine in the preliminary contest. Coatesville is resting in first place undefeated, and Coach Bill McCabe's basketballers must win tonight in order to tie the Raiders for first place. The first game of the doubleheader will get underway at 7:15 o'clock.

Boyerstown Meets Oley Foe Tonight

After losing two consecutive non-league games, Boyerstown High's basketballers get back into action against Berks County conference competition tonight when they move to Oley in quest of their sixth victory of the year.

The Bears lost to Mohnton and Warwick within a period of six days, but Coach Bob Fleming's charges are expected to coast to an easy victory tonight. In the first meeting at Boyerstown, the Bears handed Oley a 31-26 setback.

Only one more league game remains on the Boyerstown schedule after tonight's game with Oley, and that tussle will be a home affair for the Bears when they face Kutztown next Friday.

A preliminary contest is scheduled to precede the main event at 7:15 o'clock.

Greenies Host to Eagles; Falcons Battle Pennsburg

Sporting a perfect record against league competition, Royersford High's Eagles will be snooking for their eighth consecutive Upper Merion league victory tonight, and at least a tie for the championship when they battle East Greenville at East Greenville.

A victory tonight will assure the Eagles of nothing less than a tie for the Montco league title, and a victory over Collegeville next Friday will clinch the title.

East Greenville, however, has looked much stronger in its past few games and may give Coach Vince Bonkoski's charges, some unexpected trouble. The Greenies scored their first victory of the season the past week when they turned back Schwenkville.

In another Upper Montco league game on tap tonight, West Pottsgrove's Falcons, recent victors over a strong Collegeville combine, travel to face Pennsburg's Bulldogs. The Falcons need a victory tonight to hold on to third place in the league standings.

In the first meeting at West Pottsgrove, the Falcons handed the Bulldogs a 30-24 defeat, but the Pennsburg quintet is reported to be much stronger on its home court. Despite the fact that the game is at Pennsburg, the Falcons are favored to win over the Bulldogs.

The third league fray finds Collegeville invading Schwenkville to battle the Bluebirds Collegeville, on the rebound from an upset defeat at the hands of the Falcons, looked good in defeating North Wales by 19 points Tuesday night, and the Colonels are expected to roll through the Bluebirds tonight in preparation for an important game with Royersford next week.

Girls' games are scheduled to precede the varsity tussles tonight. The preliminaries will start at 7:15 o'clock.

Cardinalettes Oppose Lebanon Here Tonight

Improving with every game, the Pottstown Cardinalettes take on a strong Lebanon sextet tonight in the first game of an exhibition doubleheader at the Pottstown Junior High palestra. Lebanon, undefeated this year, will be at full strength tonight, hoping to add Pottstown to its list of victims.

In the second game, the Pottstown Amvets will battle Roth's basketballers.

Norco Seeks Revenge Over Golden Bears; J. V. Game at 7:15 o'clock

Still looking for their third victory of the season, North Coventry High's cagers play host to a strong Conshohocken High quintet tonight in one of two Section Six tussles scheduled for tonight.

In the other contest, Bridgeport High's Dragons battle Upper Merion. A victory over Bridgeport will assure the Dragons of at least a tie for the league championship.

Norco's basketballers defeated West Pottsgrove in a non-league tussle and scored an upset victory over Bridgeport early in the season. Since defeating the Falcons, the Wildcats have dropped three games in succession.

After tonight's game with the Golden Bears, the Wildcats will have to face Spring City and Upper Merion in Section Six tussles and will battle Wafnack in a postponed contest.

Coach Nick Glumta announced last night that his starting aggregation for tonight's game will be Ted Kenner and Bill Callahan at forward; Ralph Reish at center, and Bill Dolhazczyk and Tim Batdorf at guard.

The Baby Wildcats will face Conshohocken's junior varsity in a preliminary game at 7:15 o'clock.

Clinic in Reading Arranged Tuesday For Norco Teachers

A reading clinic for North Coventry elementary school teachers will be conducted in the South Pottstown elementary school Tuesday, Paul H. Grim, supervising principal of North Coventry High school, announced yesterday.

In addition, a reading demonstration will be held for members of the Parent-Teachers' association at their meeting in the high school at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

The demonstration will be conducted by Mrs. Geraldine S. Stanfield, Harrisburg, a representative of the Row-Peterson company.

Starting at 9 o'clock in the morning, the first demonstration will be with Mrs. Ann B. Knauer's first grade class in South Pottstown. It will be followed by a discussion between the teachers and the demonstrator.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Ann Y. Prizer's fifth grade class in the South Pottstown school will be used for the demonstration.

Only the classes used for the demonstrations will have to report for school Tuesday, Grim said, since all township elementary school teachers will attend the clinic.

At the evening demonstration for the PTA, Mrs. Stanfield will work with Mrs. Irma Gordon's third grade group from the Cedarville school.

Teachers who will attend the clinic are Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. E. Sara Hacker, Pottstown Landing; Mrs. Prizer, Mrs. Knauer, Mrs. Madeline H. Lamore, and Mrs. Kathryn B. Rothenberger, of South Pottstown; and Mrs. Mildred Y. Kniffen and David S. Harris, of Kemilworth.

Mrs. Stanfield, the demonstrator, is a graduate of Duke university and has done post-graduate work at Temple university. She has taught school in Steelton, Bryn Mawr, and Yeadon.
